
New username & password

Posted by pub - 2008/02/27 14:49

Many AC.com members have been inquiring about their username and password.

Unfortunately, one of the changes in Ver. 4 is the database structure so members will have to register again for their username and password.

Registration will be closed until it has been fully tested. Please check for newflashes in the frontpage for the new features that have been implemented.
